Description :

Prsentation de l'diteurIn this homage to Agatha Christie's And Then There Were None, Faith Fairchild is asked to cater a very small, very private college reunion on an isolated New England islandan event that could be her dream job. But when she discovers the true reason for the get-together, not even the spectacular ocean views can keep it from turning into a nightmare. Thirty years ago, bestselling suspense writer Barbara Bailey Bishop lost her twin sister in a tower fall deemed a suicide. But Barbara is convinced that Hlne did not die by her own hand, and she's trapped Hlne's former classmatesher prime suspectsat her home with no phone lines, no cell reception, and no means of escape. One by one, the alumnae fall prey to a madwoman. A disturbed sister's revenge . . . or a former coed's coverup? Faith must quickly unlock the secrets of Hine's last night if she wants to leave the island alive. Revue de presse...intricately plotted... (Boston Globe) Page keeps the reader guessing to the very end. (Library Journal (starred review)) Readers of the series will relish this addition; Christie fans will enjoy an engaging tribute. (Publishers Weekly) Page builds tension and makes us care about the suspects' troubled lives.
